

CAN'T CUT OFF GAS, IS RULING

Restaurant Men Win in Battle With Oklahoma Company.

Alleging the Oklahoma Natural Gas company has threatened to use its power of discrimination against the plaintiff and has threatened to shut off a supply of gas because the plaintiffs have installed in their place of business a gas "booster," a temporary injunction against shutting off the gas was granted in district court yesterday to W. W. Bishop, C. W. Bishop, Raymond Bell and the Kansas City Waffle House against the gas company. The latter must appear in court at 3 o'clock December 15 to show why the order should not be made permanent.

The plaintiffs, proprietors of three waffle houses in this city, allege in their petition that agents of the gas company have served notice that the gas will be shut off the premises at 121 South Boston avenue should the plaintiff fail to remove the gas "booster," connected with the gas line for the purpose of giving higher pressure to burners in stoves and heaters in the restaurant. Plaintiffs claim they have met local requirements and dispute the right of the company to refuse to furnish gas.
